

3CU: Workers' Compensation for your Specialty Transportation Operations

Many companies specialize in the trucking market. Third Coast Underwriters (3CU) concentrates on other aspects of the transportation industry that can benefit from a specialty approach. Using our individual account model, our underwriting and loss control team assesses client needs allowing us to design workers' compensation programs matching their requirements.

Examples of specialty transportation operations that we write, subject to our $150,000 minimum, include:

- Beverage distributors
- Bus companies and shuttle operations
- Commercial moving
- Gasoline and fuel distribution
- Quarry operations and drivers
- Oversized and heavy equipment hauling
- Route sales and drivers
- Contract Carrier Trucking
- Tow truck operations
- Transit yards
- Waste hauling
- Ambulance services
- Mix-in Transit

Excluded operations

- Auto or truck haul away, drive away or repossession
- Generalist truckers
- School buses
- Taxis
- Transportation, manufacturing, handling or storage of explosives, fireworks, nuclear materials and other high-hazard substances
